Proceeding of the Workshop on Making of Ganesha Idols

Organizer: Dr. Kanika Khare

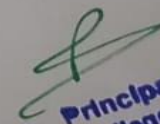

Guests of Honor: Mr. Neelesh Katre, Mr. Shyam Shriwas

Participants: 35 students and all staff members

The workshop on "Making of Ganesha Idols" was successfully conducted at Maa Rewati College of Education, Mandla, on 10th August 2022. The session was organized by Dr. Kanika Khare and graced by the presence of esteemed guests Mr. Neelesh Katre and Mr. Shyam Shriwas. The purpose of the workshop was to promote cultural heritage while encouraging the use of eco-friendly materials in crafting Ganesha idols.

Key Highlights:

1. Inaugural Session: The event began with a warm welcome to the guests of honor, Mr. Neelesh Katre and Mr. Shyam Shriwas, who appreciated the college's initiative in organizing such a meaningful workshop. Dr. Kanika Khare delivered an inaugural speech focusing on the importance of celebrating festivals in an environmentally conscious manner by using sustainable materials like clay instead of harmful substances like plaster of Paris (POP).
2. Demonstration by Dr. Kanika Khare: The main session of the workshop was led by Dr. Kanika Khare, who demonstrated the traditional method of creating Ganesha idols using eco-friendly clay. Students were keenly observing the step-by-step process and learning about the cultural significance of Ganesha in Hindu traditions.

3. Hands-on Workshop: A total of 35 students, along with the entire staff, actively participated in the hands-on session. Under the guidance of Dr. Khare, the participants created their own Ganesha idols, applying the techniques demonstrated earlier. Both Mr. Neelesh Katre and Mr. Shyam Shriwas interacted with the students and praised their creativity and enthusiasm.
4. Interactive Discussion: After the practical session, an interactive discussion was held where the participants discussed the environmental impact of using non-biodegradable materials for making idols. Both Mr. Katre and Mr. Shriwas contributed valuable insights, encouraging students to embrace eco-friendly practices not only in idol-making but also in everyday life.
5. Feedback: Students and staff members expressed their appreciation for the workshop, noting how the session deepened their understanding of both cultural practices and environmental responsibility. Many participants stated that they would implement the knowledge gained during the workshop by opting for eco-friendly idols in future celebrations.
6. Vote of Thanks: The workshop concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by Dr. Kanika Khare, who extended her gratitude to the guests, Mr. Neelesh Katre and Mr. Shyam Shriwas, for their presence and contributions. She also thanked all the participants and staff for their active involvement in making the workshop a success.

Conclusion:

The workshop was a great success, blending cultural tradition with environmental awareness. The active participation of students and staff, along with the support of the guests of honor, contributed to making this event a valuable and memorable experience for all involved.
