Child Right Protection Day Awareness Program

Date: 12-01-2019

Venue: Maa Rewati College of Education, Mandla

Organizer: Sanjay Agrawal

Mentors:

- Prof. Kavita Bhawsar
- Prof. Diksha Kachhwaha
- Rashmi Shahu

Number of Students Participated: 62

Introduction

On January 12, 2019, Maa Rewati College of Education organized a Child Right Protection Day Awareness Program aimed at educating students about the importance of child rights and the legal measures available for the protection of children. The event was part of the college's broader initiative to promote awareness on social issues and ensure students' understanding of critical legal and ethical frameworks surrounding child rights.

The program, organized by Sanjay Agrawal, received strong support from mentors Prof. Kavita Bhawsar, Prof. Diksha Kachhwaha, and Rashmi Shahu, along with the rest of the staff, ensuring a well-rounded and informative session.

Objective

The primary objective of the event was to:

- Educate students on child rights, including the right to education, protection from abuse, and the right to life and development.
- Raise awareness of the various child protection laws and the role of government agencies in safeguarding children.
- Foster an understanding of child protection mechanisms, including identifying signs of child abuse and knowing the appropriate steps to report it.

Event Highlights

1. Welcome Address:

The event began with a welcome address by Prof. Kavita Bhawsar, who emphasized the importance of child rights and the need for society to be vigilant in protecting children from harm. She highlighted how educational institutions could play a pivotal role in spreading awareness.

Principal

2. Keynote Session:
Sanjay Agrawal led a comprehensive session on the fundamental rights of children, including a detailed explanation of The Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act, The Right to Education Act, and the Juvenile Justice Act. He engaged students by discussing real-life examples and legal cases to provide a deeper understanding of the practical implications of these laws.
3. Interactive Workshop on 'Good Touch and Bad Touch':
A crucial part of the event was an interactive session on identifying and understanding the difference between 'Good Touch and Bad Touch.' Prof. Diksha Kachhwaha led this workshop, involving role-playing and activities that encouraged students to think critically about personal safety. Students were also informed about how to seek help from trusted adults and authorities when needed.
4. Group Discussion:
Students participated in group discussions facilitated by Rashmi Shahu and other staff members. These discussions focused on identifying child rights violations in their communities and brainstorming practical solutions to prevent such violations. The students actively engaged, sharing their insights and suggesting ways to raise awareness about child rights at local schools and community centers.
5. Awareness Material Distribution:
Pamphlets, booklets, and posters highlighting the various child protection laws and rights were distributed among the students. These materials also contained information on child helplines and steps to report abuse.

Outcome

The event saw the participation of 62 students, who left with a strong understanding of child rights and the legal framework designed to protect them. Students expressed a greater sense of responsibility and awareness about reporting child abuse and ensuring the protection of children in their communities.

The session on 'Good Touch and Bad Touch' had a lasting impact on the students, as many reported feeling more confident in identifying inappropriate behavior and knowing how to handle such situations.

Conclusion

The Child Right Protection Day Awareness Program was a meaningful and impactful event that successfully raised awareness about child rights and the importance of safeguarding children. The collective efforts of the organizing team, led by Sanjay Agrawal and mentors Prof. Kavita Bhawsar, Prof. Diksha Kachhwaha, and Rashmi Shahu, were instrumental in making the program a success.

The event underscored the commitment of Maa Rewati College of Education to social causes and highlighted the critical role educational institutions play in promoting child welfare and protection.

"Swachh Bharat" Event

- Date: 26th February 2021
- Organizer: Rashmi Shahu
- Mentors: Prof. Kavita Bhawsar, Diksha Kachhwaha, Sanjay Agrawal, Bharti Dixit
- Number of Participants: 69 students

On 26th February 2021, a "Swachh Bharat" event was organized with the objective of promoting cleanliness and hygiene in alignment with the national Swachh Bharat Abhiyan initiative. The event, led by Rashmi Shahu, encouraged students and faculty members to take proactive steps toward maintaining cleanliness in their surroundings. The campaign was supported by mentors Prof. Kavita Bhawsar, Diksha Kachhwaha, Sanjay Agrawal, and Bharti Dixit, who played a crucial role in guiding the students throughout the event.

Event Objective:

The primary aim of the event was to raise awareness about the importance of cleanliness and personal hygiene as key factors contributing to a healthy environment. Students were encouraged to adopt cleanliness practices both within the campus and in their personal lives. The initiative sought to instill in participants the responsibility to contribute to a cleaner and healthier India.

Activities Conducted:

The event began with an address by the organizer, Rashmi Shahu, who emphasized the role of students in upholding the ideals of Swachh Bharat. She explained how cleanliness can prevent diseases, enhance the environment, and contribute to overall well-being.

Principal
 Maa Rewati College of Education
 Khairi, Mandla (M.P.)

Following this, the students were divided into groups and assigned various areas of the campus and surrounding streets for cleaning.

Armed with brooms, dustbins, and gloves, the students actively participated in cleaning the designated areas, removing litter, and ensuring that public spaces were left spotless. The mentors closely monitored the activities and provided insights into the proper disposal of waste, segregation of recyclable materials, and maintaining cleanliness in public spaces.

Chief Messages Delivered by Mentors:

Prof. Kavita Bhawsar and Diksha Kachhwaha spoke to the students about the long-term benefits of maintaining cleanliness and the impact it has on the environment. They motivated the participants to continue these practices beyond the event and become ambassadors of cleanliness in their homes and communities. Sanjay Agrawal and Bharti Dixit reiterated the importance of community-driven initiatives like Swachh Bharat, which inspire positive change on a national level.

Outcome and Impact:

The participation of 69 students in this event demonstrated a collective commitment to the cause of cleanliness. The students not only helped clean the campus and nearby areas but also gained valuable knowledge about sustainable waste management practices. The event had a positive impact on the local community, as the visibly cleaner surroundings inspired other residents to join similar efforts.

Conclusion:

The "Swachh Bharat" event on 26th February 2021 was a success, fostering a sense of responsibility among the students to maintain cleanliness and protect the environment. Through the mentorship of faculty members and the active involvement of the students, the event contributed to the larger mission of Swachh Bharat, aligning with the nationwide effort to create a clean and healthy India. This event marked another step towards achieving the goal of a cleaner and more

Plantation Event: Plantation "Save Plant"

- Date: 22nd November 2022
- Organizer: Dr. Abhishek Choubey
- Mentors: Dr. Kanika Khare, Prof. Kavita Bhawsar, Sanjay Agrawal, Rashmi Shahu, Diksha Kachhwaha
- Chief Guest: SampatiyaUikey, MLA
- Number of Participants: 55 students

On November 22, 2022, a plantation event titled "Save Plant" was organized to raise awareness about environmental conservation and the importance of afforestation. The event, organized by Dr. Abhishek Choubey, was aimed at encouraging students and community members to actively participate in environmental protection through tree plantation initiatives.

The event was mentored by a dedicated team, including Dr. Kanika Khare, Prof. Kavita Bhawsar, Sanjay Agrawal, Rashmi Shahu, and Diksha Kachhwaha. Their guidance and efforts were crucial in the smooth execution of the event.

Chief Guest Address:

The plantation drive was inaugurated by the chief guest, SampatiyaUikey, an MLA, who emphasized the urgent need for sustainable environmental practices in today's world. She highlighted the critical role that tree plantation plays in combating climate change, preventing soil erosion, and promoting biodiversity. The MLA urged the youth to take responsibility for nurturing the environment and

Principal
Rewati College of Education
Khairi, Mandla (M.P.)

stressed that small actions, like planting a tree, can have a significant impact over time.

Student Participation:

A total of 55 students from various departments participated enthusiastically in the plantation drive. They planted saplings in designated areas on the college campus and nearby regions. The students were not only involved in the physical act of planting but were also educated on how to care for the saplings as they grow. This activity was part of an ongoing commitment to instill eco-consciousness among students and the local community.

Objective and Outcome:

The primary objective of this event was to foster a sense of responsibility towards environmental conservation among the younger generation. By participating in this initiative, students gained a hands-on understanding of the importance of trees in preserving the ecological balance. The event also aimed to beautify the campus and surrounding areas with greenery, which contributes to a healthier environment.

Conclusion:

The "Save Plant" event was a success, with the active involvement of students, mentors, and the community. The plantation drive not only resulted in the planting of several trees but also created awareness among the participants about the need for continued efforts towards environmental sustainability. With consistent follow-up and care for the saplings, this initiative is expected to contribute positively to the local ecosystem.

The leadership provided by the organizing team and the inspirational address by the chief guest made the event impactful and meaningful. It is hoped that similar events will continue to be organized to promote environmental conservation on a larger scale.
